Seeing is believing

Located just 10 miles north west of Edinburgh, South Queensferry is a picturesque town, with pretty pastel coloured shops and houses lining the main street, offering a quaint charm all of its own.

Away from the city, but certainly not out of reach, South Queensferry has plenty of restaurants, bars, shops and tourist attractions to keep you occupied. Once the main port for boarding ferries to Fife, regular boat trips now tour the many islands dotted throughout the Forth.

A breath of fresh air

Escape the everyday and get back to nature.

Maid of the Forth offers sightseeing cruises past Inchcolm Island where you might spot some of the local wildlife including seals and puffins.

Brace yourself for up close and personal views of the three bridges – each one a spectacular feat of engineering. For sailing enthusiasts Port Edgar Marina is just a short stroll from the development and is home to one of the largest sailing schools in Scotland.

Go explore

Covering 6,500 acres of outstanding natural beauty, Hopetoun House & Estate will create a lasting impression. Take advantage of its Farm Shop or try your hand at clay pigeon shooting. Set within rolling parkland and offering spectacular views across the Firth of Forth, Dalmeny House enjoys stunning architecture along with a fascinating collection of artwork and antiques.

A class act

For those with children of school age, Echline, Queensferry and St Margaret's RC Primary Schools are all within easy reach of home. Secondary education can be found at Queensferry Community High School*. Edinburgh's incredible selection of universities and colleges including Edinburgh, Napier and Heriot-Watt are all easily accessible from Queensferry Heights.

*Owning a home in a school's catchment does not guarantee a place at the school. Please consult the local authority for more details.

Community spirit

The annual Ferry Fair brings the entire community together for a fun-filled week every August, culminating in the crowning of the Ferry Fair Queen. On Fair Friday, the Burryman's Parade is a three-century-old tradition where a local man is covered head to toe in sticky burrs and marched through the town for all to see. The Loony Dook is an end-of-year chance to give back, where participants raise money for charity dressing up in madcap costumes before taking a chilly dip into the River Forth on New Year's Day.

Meet up with friends or family at The Little Bakery, Scotts Bar & Restaurant, Orocco Pier Hotel or The Hawes Inn where Robert Louis Stevenson is said to have penned parts of his famous novel, Kidnapped.

Parks and green spaces – Using the variety of footpaths around the development and throughout the local area will take you on a relaxing journey through pocket parks to the town centre. King George V Park lies at the river's edge and, with children's play area, is a rewarding 10-minute walk from the development.

Shopping – You'll find a selection of unique shops around town including Harbour Lane Studio. With home furnishing, crafts and gifts, it's a hidden gem worth discovering. For high street names to high end labels, The Kingsgate Shopping Centre in Dunfermline is around 15 minutes' drive or take a half hour trip to the capital.

Family days out – The 4.5 mile Shore Walk takes you from South Queensferry to Cramond Beach. Soak up incredible views across the River Forth, from the array of islands to the stunning coastline.

What our customers say

Photography from a previous Oala development

“ We weren’t looking to buy a new house originally but once we booked the appointment and saw it, we knew immediately we wanted it.

We fell in love with the style of the house right away as it ticked all our boxes.

I have my own office where I can work from home and the kids have their own bedrooms which are all the same size so there were no arguments about who gets which room. ”

Sustainability the Cala way

Cala has a rich heritage originally dating back to 1875. We started building homes in the 1970s and, for over 50 years, have been creating high quality, sustainable new homes and communities. However it is not just what we do, but the way we do it that matters to Cala.

Thinking sustainably is at the heart of everything we do; from identifying the right sites, through creating a safe, healthy and fulfilling working environment, to taking a sensitive approach to development and delivering communities that meet local requirements.

As part of our sustainability journey we are aiming to reduce our paper usage by 90% across the company, including the customer journey, which is why we are aiming for online only brochures at our developments.
