

A higher specification as standard? Just ask Cala

At Cala, we think long and hard about how you’ll use your new home. That’s why we speak to our customers, constantly finding out what they enjoy about their new surroundings and discovering more about how we can make things even better.

Of course you will need light and space, the right layout and room to grow, but we’ve also learned that having all the extra things you would never expect to be included as standard, is what sets your Cala home apart.

With many builders, that could be a tall order, but as we say, when it comes to finding your dream home, just ask Cala.
